Former Black Hawk Pilot Heads to Jacksonville

Elizabeth was recently interviewed by 20/20 for an upcoming segment on Violence in the Workplace. You can be among the first media in the country to grab an interview with her prior to the 20/20 episode airing later this month. She will be in town from Oct. 3 - Oct 6, 2012.

Why has this Dallas resident and black hawk pilot turned motivational speaker in Florida? She has been chosen to deliver 2 special key note speeches at the Home Inventory Professional's Conference.

Tonight, Elizabeth will deliver her newest keynote speech, "The Secrets of an Army Black Hawk Pilot" and tomorrow she will address the group again with her inspiring and enlightening business success topic.

Elizabeth's story is an incredible one. She became a Black Hawk Helicopter pilot because she needed a job, had student loans from college to repay and wanted to do something really cool with her life! She had never flown before, never even considered aviation as a career. Now, after 8 years of serving her country with Pride and Patriotism, and spending time in the corporate sector after the military, she is living her dream of motivating and inspiring others through public speaking.

Elizabeth is in town for several days this week and is available for interviews. Click here to visit her page
